

Life Through a Different Lens: Reflections and Lessons from the Horn of Africa

This book chronicles a journey of an American Businessman to East Africa. It is a passionate story of a bond developed with people who possess few material things but radiate a stunning spiritual richness in their faith relationship to God. It is a powerful story of self discovery, personal awareness, and perspective changes as the author encounters people with vastly different resources and priorities. It is an exciting story told through the journal, photographs, and poetry of Ward Brehm.
